

BRYAN APPARENTLY IN SADDLE IN ANTI- ALIEN LAND MUDDLE

AMENDMENT TO BIRDSALL BILL IS FORCED

Gives Three Years' Leasehold to Aliens Ineligible to U. S.
Citizenship

AMENDMENT TAKES THE "STING" OUT OF THE BILL

Action on Bill Expected to Be Taken This Afternoon and Excitement is High

SACRAMENTO, May 2.—By a vote of 25 to 13, the Senate today adopted an amendment to the Birdsall anti-alien land bill providing that aliens ineligible to citizenship may lease California lands for a period of three years. The amendment was introduced by Senator Boynton. The Senate adjourned until 1:45 this afternoon when the consideration of the bill with its amendments is expected. Caminetti, Campbell and Wright are expected to propose further amendments then.

The Boynton amendment on its face was the result of a protest of the San Joaquin Valley land owners, who claimed that one million acres of their land is under lease to Japanese, and that a bill without a leasehold privilege would cause a depreciation of values. But just before the Senate convened, Secretary Bryan, Senator Boynton and Governor Johnson conferred. It is believed possible that Bryan played a trump card in forcing the amendment.

During the debate on the amendment, Shanahan raised a point whether leasehold could be continued at the expiration of the three years' tenure. Senator Boynton explained that the same land could not be subsequently leased to the same alien, but admitted that the property could remain with the same firm for many years by successive rentals. Finn and Shanahan opposed the amendment, declaring it caused the bill to lose its efficacy. On the first roll call the amendment failed to receive sufficient votes, and the sergeant-at-arms was ordered to bring in missing members. The senators were reticent when they left the chamber for the noon recess. Many apparently believed that Bryan's work has been effective and that even if the bill now passes, the government will be satisfied if its sting is removed. Bryan refused to discuss the matter.

SENATE CONFRONTED BY NEW PHASES OF THE SITUATION

SACRAMENTO, May 2.—Before the Senate met today four important phases of the anti-alien land legislation became known:

1. Secretary Bryan, believing his fight in the Senate lost, held a caucus with twenty-five Democrats in the Assembly, counseling caution. It is believed he brought much influence to bear.
 2. The emergency clause to the Webb bill was discussed, which would make the Webb bill immediately operative, preventing wholesale land grabbing by the Japanese during the ninety-day interval before the bill could ordinarily become a law.
 3. An entirely new bill, identical with the Webb bill except that it contains a clause allowing Japanese to lease land for a period of three years, has been endorsed by Governor Johnson and is before the Assembly for action.
 4. The legislators believe the federal government, through Secretary Bryan and the Assembly Democrats, will continue its efforts to prevent or to delay the passage of the Webb bill in its present form.
- Bryan's caucus with the Assembly Democrats came late yesterday, and was executive. The new bill was drawn late yesterday by Attorney General Webb.
- An ominous undertone pervaded the capitol when the legislators assembled to consider the anti-alien land bill. It was generally believed that important developments were impending. Secretary Bryan arrived early, remaining in a private office until the senate convened. His breakfast was served there. The senate gallery was jammed early, among the spectators being the two Japanese who have daily attended the sessions. Prior to calling the senate to order, Secretary

STILLERS ALMOST BLED TO DEATH

Seeing Collision Inevitable,
Youth Jumped Into Air Head-

ORANGE, May 2.—His head jammed through two thicknesses of a windshield, his head and throat laid open with deep cuts. Marion Stillers, 18, driving Willard Smith's automobile, approached him. Stillers tried to pass to the left of the automobile, but misjudged his distance. Seeing that he was going to be struck, Stillers threw himself upward to keep from being thrown under the automobile wheels.

The youth struck the windshield, which was down, head first, and his head was shoved through both glasses. One cut, six inches long, laid open his forehead, severing an artery. Another cut across his throat exposed the larynx and barely missed the jugular.

The injured boy was taken immediately to a physician's office, and it was two hours before he was patched up and bleeding fully stopped. Blood flowed profusely, and the case proved unusually hard to handle, the patient being what the physicians describe as a free bleeder. For a time it looked as though all efforts to keep him from bleeding to death would prove of no avail. Today, however, Stillers is feeling quite well and there is every reason to believe that he will recover.

APPEL SAYS HE HAS NO LETTERS WANTED BY THE VICE PROBE

LOS ANGELES, May 2.—Efforts of the police and district attorney's office to secure certain letters alleged in the possession of Detective William Appel failed today when Appel, testifying before the white slave grand jury, declared he had no such documents. He was before the jury for seventeen minutes. Mrs. Mabel Mason, proprietor of the Blue Moon Cafe, and Sandy Ferguson, a bartender, followed Appel. William H. Hooton then testified. William P. Wood, recently freed on the charge of contributing to the delinquency of Marie Brown Levy, was subpoenaed.

Elks' Minstrel Show a Real Howling Success From Start to Finish

Last night's performance of the Elks' Peerless Minstrels was one grand, glorified undimmed success and the performers will themselves find this morning to find themselves famous.

In such a dazzling galaxy of stars, it would be a bold man who presumed to say that one star differed from another in splendor, so with a clear conscience and an earnest desire to arouse no professional jealousy we can but say that each separate member of the large and brilliant cast was the very best and brightest—and let it go at that.

Musically, the Elks have every reason to congratulate themselves, as the choruses and solos, as well as the quartette and sextette, were remarkably good.

The colored gentlemen who manipulated the ebony and wielded the sheepskin were the classiest sort of minstrels, and their jokes had all the snap and go of professionals. Individually, every one of them made a hit with his musical offering, but the real, sure-enough nightingale—the Caruso, in fact—of the bunch was Fred Ross, with his plantation lullaby, "Close Yo' Dreamy Eyes," in which he was given the added advantage of being accompanied by two cunning pickaninnies, tiny Miss Alice Prather and Master Jack Remberg.

If it came to a popularity contest, "Doc" Barnes might have carried off the prize, for his genial, infectious grin, his apparent enjoyment of his fun-making, and his song with its local quips and cranks, made a big hit.

And Joe Parsons' "Malinda" and Tarver Montgomery's "Lead Me to That Beautiful Band" were not so slow, while Fred Chapman's pleasant bass, as displayed in "Neath the Old Red, White and Blue" was given its full share of applause.

Raymond Miles has a distinctly pleasing tenor voice, and his ballad, "Golden Dreams," was a popular number, while the "Elks Stein Song," sung by Maurice Phillips, with a full chorus, was of course a big hit.

But let's talk about L'il Joe Burke. He had a pathetic solo, "Come Along My Mandy," and he sang it—or chanted it—anyway he kept it going, and kept the house going with him. He had proved himself a witty end man, but now, blossoming out all by his

Prof. Hull Declares Nations of

Chas. F. Thwing Given Ovation;

ST. LOUIS, May 2.—Warfare between nations is immoral. This was the declaration today of Professor William I. Hull, of Swarthmore College, before the second day's session of the Fourth American Peace Congress at the Odeon. Practically all the representatives of the United States and nineteen Central and South American countries attended this morning's session.

"By a parity of reasoning," declared Professor Hull, "it may be justly contended that nations have no more right to commit the immorality of waging war than kings possess the divine right of ruling wrong; and that jurisdiction to prevent immorality of warfare may be vested in a court exterior to the several nations." Prof. Hull went on to point out that the United States Supreme Court has recently decided, in prohibiting white slave trade between states that "a right exercised in morality cannot be urged to sustain a right exercised in immorality." Arguing for the immediate establishment of a "World's Supreme Court," the speaker quoted Wilson's inaugural in which the President said: "The firm basis of government is justice," as basis for his argument that "it is as logical for the Supreme Court of the forty-eight states of the United States as it would be for the Supreme Court of the forty-six states in the family of nations to adjudicate the conventions agreed upon by that family at The Hague." As an example of the substitution of trial by laws instead of by battle, the speaker referred to "England's inspiring example in substituting law and courts for war within her own borders."

Another speaker today who received a great ovation was President Charles F. Thwing of Western Reserve University, and president of the Intercollegiate Peace Association. Declaring college men, as a whole, are intensely patriotic, President Thwing said, "But what is needed today is not less of national patriotism, but more of international patriotism." Commerce, finance, communication by letter, telegraph, cable and telephone; the "Concordia movement"; the Corda Fraternitatis movement; and the migration of students; according to President Thwing, are the four greatest factors in the hurrying of universal peace. Other addresses today were on "Problems of The Hague Conference," and "The Sanctions of Peace." A visit to Shaw's gardens and a sightseeing trip between the morning and afternoon sessions also were on today's program.

KEEP COLLECTOR AND TREASURER SEPARATE

Terms of the County Government Bill
Probably Agreed to by Legislature—
New Deputies Provided For

According to information received here from the state capitol, State Senator J. N. Anderson and Assemblyman Weisel have given up the project to consolidate the offices of county tax collector and county treasurer. The plan to have these two offices under one head was promulgated by the Republican County Central Committee, and for a time it was thought that the consolidation would be worked out. In fact, the bills introduced in January by the two legislators from this county provided for the union.

During the session Anderson and Weisel have attempted to line out the necessary steps to secure the consolidation. The plan was not considered advisable by a number of those who were of the opinion that but little would be saved financially in comparison to the confusion that would follow consolidation.

It is now definitely known here that the legislators have abandoned the plan.

The bill creating a new judgeship in this county will pass the senate today or tomorrow, if it has not already gone through. It passed the assembly about a month ago. This bill provides that the salary of the superior judges shall be $4,000. Considerable effort was expended toward getting the salary raised to $5,000, but the efforts were of no avail.

It is expected that the new county government bill, which regulates the compensation of county officers and provides funds for running the various offices will be passed today or tomorrow. This bill will place the recorder's office on a flat salary basis instead of a fee basis.

The bill will provide for a number of additional deputies at the court-house, and some changes in the amounts of funds available for office help. It is generally conceded that both Anderson and Weisel have agreed to provide new deputies, one for the clerk, one for the district attorney and two for the sheriff. The general plan is to put each office principal on a salary from which he is not expected to expend anything for office help.

LONDON LUMBER CONGRESSMEN YARDS WERE MENACED IN WORDY WAR TODAY

Arrest of Edward Clayton as Connected With Women's Plot for Destruction
Mann Flings Back Retort of
"Bewhiskered" to Thomas'

LONDON, May 2.—Scotland Yard detectives today arrested Edward Clayton on the charge of conspiracy in connection with a suffragette plot to burn all the lumber yards in London. Clayton refused any comment. It was reported that simultaneously with the alleged plot all telephones in the neighborhoods of the lumber yards were to be cut.

A bottle of nitro-glycerine found at a Piccadilly cinema tube station caused a panic among the passengers. Suffragettes are suspected.

Notwithstanding the drastic action of the police Wednesday in raiding the offices of the Women's Social and Political Union on Kingsway, arresting all the women found there and suppressing the newspaper Suffragette, the militants continue their outrages. A large stable was burned at Hendon, near London, and a placard with the words "Votes, Votes, Votes, Beware!" was found pasted on the premises. The women declare they are engaged in a real war.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—In a red-hot verbal assault directed at Congressman Mann of Illinois and Congressman Fordney of Michigan during the tariff debate in the House, Cong. Thomas, of Kentucky, characterized Fordney as the "hairless wonder from Michigan." Referring to Mann, Thomas said:

"I just want to tell that bewhiskered gent from Illinois that these are dog days and we are shearing sheep. I would advise him to go out and get shaved. The gentleman from Illinois has taken up volume of the congressional record with his mixed metaphors and rapid nothings. I'll bet he has cost the government $10,000,000 since he has been rattling around here."

Mann, white with rage, was on his feet instantly. "The gentleman from Kentucky addresses himself to the hair on my face," he shouted. "He says I'm bewhiskered. I am bewhiskered, but I'm not bewhiskered."

The house, which was laughing, was silenced by Mann's retort. Thomas endeavored to speak again but the chair rapped him to order.

CITRUS DUTY CLAUSE IS ADOPTED

House Overwhelmingly Rejects
Amendments to Offset
Tariff Reductions

HOPES OF CALIFORNIA'S SOLONS ENDED BY ACTION

President Stands by Plans for Free Sugar, Free Wool and
All of Free List

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The amendments offered by the California congressmen to offset the proposed sweeping reduction in the citrus fruit tariff were overwhelmingly defeated today when the house today adopted the citrus paragraph in the Wilson-Underwood tariff bill without amendment.

During the debate Knowland of California offered an amendment to boost the rate on figs and raisins. Hayes offered an amendment to retain the present duty on olives. Bell offered an amendment changing the duty on lemons to one and one-half cents, on oranges, limes, grapefruit and shaddock to one cent. All were defeated. Stephens' proposals for a one cent rate on lemons and a three-fourths cent rate on other citrus fruits were also rejected.

Stands by Free List
WASHINGTON, May 2.—President Wilson called to the White House yesterday the senators from the south and west who have protested that free wool, free beef and free sugar would destroy the chief industries of their respective sections. After hearing arguments of leading men of these sections, it is said that the administration stand was stated as follows:

"The president is immovable on the question of free wool and free sugar. He favors the entire free list as submitted to the house of representatives."

Senator Works of California submitted a letter from the Bishop of Hawaii, stating that free sugar meant nothing short of placing Hawaii and its chief industry in the hands of the Japanese.

The letter declared that there were 80,000 Japanese in the islands engaged in agricultural pursuits, and that to remove the duty would give the Mikado's subjects complete mastery of the situation.

So Say Refugees from Mexico
Who Tell of Frightful State of Affairs There

GALVESTON, May 2.—Blood curdling stories of brutal murders of Americans in Mexico are told by fourteen Americans and refugees arriving here from various Mexican points on the steamer Beryl. Nine women are in the party. Several of these left their husbands' bodies in Mexico.

The refugees declared that anti-American sentiment is rapidly spreading throughout the Mexican republic. Many Americans, they claim, are in the interior unable to find the means to escape to the border on account of railroads having been destroyed. Rebel leaders are forbidding officers of steamships to carry passengers.

One of the most delightful entertainments of the school year, took place last evening in the auditorium of the Fremont school building, the participants being the pupils of the fifth and sixth grades. The large stage was beautifully decorated in pepper boughs, pink roses, gladioli, carnations and chrysanthemums, making a very appropriate setting for the dainty little girls who were dressed as flowers. All varieties of flowers were represented, pansies, daisies, sweet peas, roses, etc., every kind from the stateliest to the modest violet. The boys were dressed as brownies and, by their queer antics, kept the audience in an uproar of laughter, the whole time they were on the stage. Much credit is due to the children for their untiring efforts in rehearsing.

NATION WIDE WAR ON FLY IS OPENED

American Boy Scout Camp in Country Over Begins Warfare Today

NEW YORK, May 2.—War—grim war to the death—is on today throughout the length and breadth of the nation. In every large city and many smaller ones the slaughter is on. It began today at sunrise for that was the time set for the first official swat of the Demon Housefly by concerted action on the part of every American Boy Scout organization in the country. War was declared weeks ago. Heads of the branches in every city, following orders from the national headquarters here, assigned to every Boy Scout a section or beat and armed with fly swatter and cards of instructions on the best way to swat the fly a house to house canvass has started. Orders issued today from national headquarters here were for the Boy Scouts to visit every home, every shop or place of business where flies "congregate" and every barnyard to spread destruction to the fly and information on how to prevent fly breeding to householders. No quarter will be shown, and the campaign will be carried on the same lines if it takes all summer, according to information from headquarters.

MUST BE TRAINED HOUSEWIFE FIRST

No Public Success Without Home Arts, Says Woman City Clerk

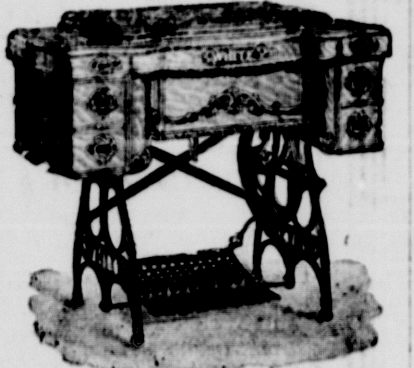

COLORADO CITY, Colo., May 2.—"Cooking, dishwashing, dusting and other household duties are the very best training possible for public life. Without practice in these arts, no woman need expect to succeed as a public official." This revolutionary doctrine was expounded by Mrs. Mary Ammerman, who today took the oath of office of commissioner of records and seals, and police magistrate. At the recent election Mrs. Ammerman also was elected city clerk, but believing she had enough work in the two positions she was transferred to another municipal department.

"A woman who has not succeeded in being a good housekeeper is not fit to hold public office," declared Mrs. Ammerman today. "The housewife and mother are the generals in the home. If they are a success there is no reason why they should not be successes in public life."

As a police magistrate, Mrs. Ammerman will be required to deal with petty offenders and juvenile delinquents. She has little sympathy with the methods of leniency in the majority of cases. She is a firm believer in the doctrine that sparing the rod spoils the child. She says if her own son came before her in the role of a juvenile offender against the law, she would deal with him exactly as she would with any other "bad boy." She thinks that there would be fewer violators of the law if "pa's old slipper" had been used less sparingly in the "early days." As can be seen from her views, Mrs. Ammerman is a thoroughly practical woman.

"I don't know such a terrible lot about the law," she naively stated today, "but I can read the ordinances intelligently and the people of Colorado City can rest assured that I can interpret them well and shall impose the proper penalties. Of course I shall always take into consideration the cause and effect of misdemeanors in imposing penalties. When those who framed the amendment providing that the commissioner of records should also discharge the duties of police magistrate, they had no idea that those duties ever would fall to the lot of a woman. Either it was that way or they figured if a woman was elected she would resign in the face of such multiple duties. Well, they are going to learn differently. I am going to stick to the end of my term and I feel confident that I shall make good on the job."

MAY DAY FESTIVAL OF KINDERGARTEN TOTS

The May Day Festival, including the winding of an immense May pole, given by the tots of all the kindergarten schools, this city yesterday afternoon on the high school campus, was an immense success. It attracted so large a crowd that Main street in front of the campus was almost blocked at times by automobiles and carriages. The schools of the city were dismissed so that the hundreds of students of all grades might witness the very pretty exercises. The high school entrance was fairly massed with spectators and every available sight-seeing point on the campus was pre-empted by early comers. Indeed, scores of people went away unable to get a view of the exercises.

First came the processional march and the forming around the May pole, the scores of kindergartners presenting a charming sight as they joyfully patterned along their way to the gayly trimmed standard that loomed so high above them. After the invitation to the May pole came a cunning song "Happy May Day," and a dainty flower dance with the dedication of the pole. From that time on the little ones alternated in song and game and story as follows:

Game, "Gold and Yellow Poppies."
Rhythm and Swing Song.
Game, Lads and Lassies Went Out Walking.
Songs: "May Time Is the Gay Time," "Sing a Song of Seasons," "Sweet Peas."
Story, "In My Little Garden Bed."
Then came the winding of the May pole by all the children of the kindergartens. This was a beautiful spectacle, the long ribbons of the May pole being clutched tightly by each little hand of the kindergartners as they danced about the pole.

One of the pretty features of the entertainment was the "free play" of the tots who were not engaged in the dancing about the May pole. In kindergarten parlance "free play" means liberty to play such kindergarten games as the children may please, and it was interesting to watch the various groups as they indulged in this privilege.

After all the dancing and singing and playing and winding of the May pole had ended the little ones were treated to ice cream cones. And so ended the happy kindergarten May Day Festival of 1913.

The teachers of kindergartens who trained the children to such an excellent point were Miss Smart, director of Roosevelt school; Miss Hill, Lincoln school director; Miss Larsen, Jefferson school director; Mrs. Barnes, McKinley school director; and their assistants, Miss Havens, Miss Harrison, Miss Shaw, Miss Stafford, Miss Watry.

THE PROGRESSIVE WAY THE ONLY RIGHT WAY

General debate on the tariff bill has now been raging back and forth for ten days or more and it is entirely safe to say that not a member of that body has changed his convictions for or against either the bill or any of its four thousand items. In the main, the debate has taken the same old range made familiar to followers of proceedings in Washington by hundreds, perhaps even thousands, of pages of the Congressional Record. Republicans assail the Democratic bill as a disaster-breeding measure of free trade. Democrats defend it as a measure of relief to the people of the country from the high cost of living and assail the Republican theory and practice of high protection as unconstitutional robbery. Wit, metaphor and poetry are employed indiscriminately by both sides and, for all practical advantage, the report of the proceedings as between Republicans and Democrats might be taken from any one of the many similar sham battles that have preceded this one.

But a new and striking element has been injected into this debate by the little band of Progressives. In the house, the standpat newspapers, Republican and Democratic alike, have devoted little or no space to this significant feature of the present debate, but it is a feature which will increase rapidly in importance as the tariff bill proceeds along its well oiled way and which is bound to gain vastly in public recognition and approval before the tariff bill receives the president's signature.

While Republicans and Democrats are emphasizing by their speeches the fact that the pending bill is a product of the same old vicious method of tariff making that has marked the enactment of previous tariff laws, the Progressives have steadily called attention to the manner in which the inconsistencies and defects charged by Republicans or admitted by Democrats emphasize the necessity for change not merely in tariff rates but, in what is of even greater importance, in the method of tariff making. The Republicans go gaily ahead pointing out items in the measure which more or less obviously are the results of ignorance or indolence and, at the same time, Democrat after Democrat makes admission that in this, that or the other respect the bill is not right and could be improved. Thus, while neither side admits the logical implication of its argument, both sides are steadily adding to the proof of the necessity for the creation of a permanent, non-partisan, scientific Tariff Commission, which shall secure to all the people of the whole country, not merely for the private use of the majority members of the ways and means committee,—full information about every item considered in a tariff bill.

The proposition of the Progressive party is "the establishment of a non-partisan, scientific Tariff Commission, reporting both to the president and to either branch of congress, which shall report, first, as to the costs of production, efficiency of labor, capitalization, industrial organization and efficiency and the general competitive position in this country and abroad of industries seeking protection from congress; second, as to the revenue-producing power of the tariff and its relation to the resources of government; and, third, as to the effect of the tariff on prices, operations of middlemen and on the purchasing power of the consumer."

It is worth while to consider the bearing upon this proposition of certain facts brought out in the debate in the house this week. Mr. Palmer, of Pennsylvania, one of the leading Democrats on the Ways and Means committee, frankly admitted that, under the pending bill, although American manufacturers can continue to produce, it will be to a "somewhat less extent in some lines and with less profit in nearly all." This admission of the crippling effect of the pending bill upon American manufacturers at once inspires the question whether it would not be better before enacting such a measure to have such full information regarding all these matters as would enable the enactment of a measure which would be just to all concerned and would show whether it is necessary to cripple any line of American industry in order to give to consumers of the product of that industry lower prices on the goods they purchase.

In explaining the reduction in duties on steel and iron and other metals, Mr. Palmer declared that the duty on ferromanganese, an essential element in all steel manufactures, had been increased from $2.50 a ton to 15 per cent ad valorem, equivalent to between $8 and $9 a ton at present prices. Mr. Palmer said that this was done purely for revenue purposes. Questioned by others, he presently admitted that the steel trust is the only manufacturer of ferromanganese in the United States. All the smaller independent steel concerns import their ferromanganese. When it was pointed out that the effect of this provision would be to protect the steel trust at the expense of the small independent concerns, Mr. Palmer replied that it would not protect the steel trust at all because the steel trust does not make ferromanganese for sale. But the steel trust can and does make ferromanganese in quantities and, with a protective duty of $9 establishing a domestic market for it, a new source of profit is at once open to that gigantic corporation. The real point of the matter is, however, that it also shows the importance and benefit to the whole country of having a full body of authentic information on the whole subject available to everybody before a tariff bill is written attempting to deal with it.

For years the Democrats have assailed schedule K,—the wool schedule,—as the center of iniquity in Republican tariff bills. So now, over the vehement protest of Democrats representing wool-growing districts, they have put wool on the free list in the hope of securing thereby a reduction in the price of woolen goods and corresponding political profit for themselves. Republican previous tariffs have all treated sheep wool and Angora goat wool alike. Way back in the hills of Texas, remote from observation and scrutiny, lives a modest Democrat named Robinson who has a flock of three or four thousand Angora goats. Mr. Robinson has the advantage of being represented in congress by a Democrat who is a member of the Ways and Means committee. The new Democratic tariff bill differentiates between wool of the sheep and wool of the goat, and Mr. Robinson has a comforting knowledge that the new law will give him a protection of 20 per cent ad valorem on his Angora wool.

This sort of thing is possible for a tariff bill made as the pending one was, in secret conference and secret caucus. It ought to be impossible, under any circumstances, and a long step toward making it impossible will be taken when a non-partisan, scientific tariff commission shall be established.

A CO-OPERATIVE SUGAR FACTORY
When we went before the Congressional Committee on the investigation of the "Sugar Trust" last winter, representing the best growers of Colorado, we were asked if we could offer a plan that would get away from the friction between the grower and the refiner and promote the industry. We suggested Co-operation on a basis that would pay the grower a price for his beets based on the actual selling price of sugar. Guarantee to each a fixed amount as their cost of production, and divide the profits equal. Capitalists became interested at once. We have now secured a concession to colonize a large tract of the richest land in California, 40 miles from San Francisco, on this basis.

A sugar factory is to be built that pays for beets on this plan, and every acre of land sold carries with it $20.00 of stock in the sugar company. A permanent water right goes with the land, with an abundance of water. Talk it over with the man at the Arlington Hotel, Santa Ana, or with Darley & Combs, Holbrook Bldg., San Francisco.—Adv.

HOPEWELL SERVED EIGHT MONTHS' TERM
Further investigation of the records at the courthouse shows that F. H. Hopewell served eight months in the county jail for assault with a deadly weapon, a pistol, upon G. J. Craves at Huntington Beach in 1905. The investigation was taken up on a query being received from Brawley by Sheriff Ruddock, asking for Hopewell's criminal record here.

ELKS' MINSTREL SHOW A HOWLING SUCCESS

cute little self, he was a radiant sunbeam. And down the aisle to his waiting arms came his Mandy—Fred Chapman, arrayed like the morning star in brilliant plumage and a bridal veil, where upon occurred "A Hook-up in Black," with Chas. McCamey as the officiating parson, Alice Prather and Jack Remberg as the pickaninnies, and Fred Ross and Tarver Montgomery as the "Old Folks." The white chicken's name was not announced on the program.

The male quartette, consisting of Messrs. Wilson, Miles, Chapman and Phillips, sang most pleasingly, and were compelled to respond to an encore. G. T. Wilson, under whose direction the whole program had been prepared, gave a very clever monologue—and his "Shakespeare in a Deseriet Skule" was as funny as it could be.

Then came the Florida Sextette—and right here let us pause to remark that in the role of a female impersonator, Lester Carden is the real, real thing. A pale blue charmer, creation—probably designed by Worth or Paquin, at the very least—gracefully festooned with lace, and cut en traine and decollete, set on his beautiful "figger" to perfection. His hat, loaded with willow plumes, topped a marcel-waved yellow pompadour, and he wore white silk stockings and frilly lingerie—and was obviously proud of it. Two black love-patches coquettishly adorned his beautiful complexion—but heavens! how jealous his rivals must have been! Roy Peterson in green with Lucracia Borgia hair, and Claude McIntyre in red with raven tresses—abundant tresses, too—were a stunning pair, and were the sort of "silk skirts" you'd turn around to look at—but as for Lester Carden—you would simply sit down on the curb-stone and wait until he came back.

"Ladies first,"—so now that we've done our duty, we turn to remark that Hugh Plum, Bob Cavanagh and Fred Newcomb were the glass of fashion and the mold of form, in black silk hats, frock coats, and marvellous trousers. The real creme de la creme was the great kidnapping case which closed the bill. Judge Wisehead, an eminent limb of the law, was done to a turn by Will Jerome, who made his honor look exactly like Uncle Sam. Giffman, an officer of the law, was in the capable hands of Chas. McCamey. The lawyers were Frank Price for the plaintiff and Clyde Bishop for the defendant. Amelia Bedelia Arrowroot, the chief witness, was Lester Carden, of whom we have spoken above—and we would speak again if we had room, but we haven't. We turn loose our vocabulary upon that delicate Lily of the Valley (nothing less than capitals are worthy of him)—namely, William F. Menton, as Mrs. Leonora Smithers. Trustily, as Mrs. Leonora Smithers, the plaintiff. He was a light to guide the erring, so far as being an exponent of the new—ahem—corsetless figure is concerned. He was daintily gowned in a green confection, and a nat tout beggars description. And his manly countenance was so disguised, disfigured and transformed by a blonde wig that his own grandma wouldn't have known him—and she would have hesitated about acknowledging him if she had. Maybe it was the wig—maybe it was the stockings (they certainly had the grace to blush for themselves)—but something gave our William the look of a graceless female adventuress whom you wouldn't trust with a sack of jelly-beans to take home to the baby. It wouldn't be polite to tell you where he carried his powder puff. And his siren smile—there are no words to describe it. He was a scream—a large, amplitudinous, vociferous scream, and he quite ran away with the show.

Clare Johnson played Abijah Pippin, the defendant—or rather, he coughed it, for it didn't need playing. When you thought of his kidnapping the buxom Leonora, you wept. His attorney, Clyde Bishop, harranged the jury and browbeat the witness in his finest judicial manner, his eye in fine frenzy rolling, and his voice shaking the rafters. "My client," he proclaimed in a voice broken by sobs and choked with tears, "My client is a poor, frail creature hovering on the brink of the grave!" M—h—m—maybe, but we think he gave his client the benefit of the doubt. Abijah may have been hovering on the brink of the grave, but judging solely by appearances, we would say he had been in it for about three weeks, and had been dragged forth for the occasion.

The jury of his peers was certainly a jury without a peer—and one of the best make-ups of the whole show, and a bit of the best character work, must be credited to Harvey Gardner, who as Footlight McDuff, a stranded actor, looked like Hamlet and talked like the late Louis James. Gottlieb Wurstmacher, a butcher, was smilingly and placidly done by City Marshal Sam Jerfigan, with the Elks' cat and a basket of sausages. The very natural query arises—why didn't the cat eat the sausages?

Joe Burke was once more a shining ebony pillar of propriety, as Vanderbilt Persimmons, a barber by profession, but a confessed gambler by choice—not that he played for money—oh, no, he played for chips. And as he further elucidated he did not exchange the chips for money because "I never saw any chips when the game ended."

Hooligan was a tip-top hobo, done by Clare Buchanan. Jack Cope was the real thing as Levi Hockheimer, a Hebrew merchant, and Dr. Anesthetic Pullen, the new woman, was made highly entertaining by J. E. Livesey. Sammy Burke and George Jeffrey were two shapely, flossy, captivating ballet girls, and with their airy-fairy dancing made a great hit, as well as by selling copies of the song, "Elk's Milk," between the acts.

OFFICERS ELECTED

High School P-T. Association Names Mrs. Winbiger, Pres.; Miss Brockett, Sec'y

The Parent-Teacher's Association of the high school held a very short session last evening in the high school building. On account of the May Day exercises of the little ones being held on the high school grounds and of the lateness of the hour the program was dispensed with and only the business attended to. Mrs. West was unable to be present and Mrs. Baker presided.

Minutes of last and of the special meeting were read by the secretary, Miss Tyrrell, and reports of different committees given. This being the time for the election of officers, the report of the nominating committee was heard. Mrs. Gould, chairman, reported the following officers who were elected by ballot: President, Mrs. Winbiger; first vice-president, Prof. McMath; second vice-president, Mrs. Maurice Yarnell; corresponding secretary, Mr. Hammond; recording secretary, Miss Brockett; treasurer, Mrs. Anna Gale.

The resolutions passed by the committee appointed at the last meeting were adopted and further committees will be announced later.

The Billy Club

The Billy Club spent a very pleasant afternoon yesterday with Mrs. Chester Nuckolls at her home on Parson street.

The living room was adorned with a beautiful bouquet of fragrant sweet peas. The time was happily spent with fancy work until a late hour when the hostess served a most delicious two-course collation.

The members present besides the hostess were Mesdames Flake Smith, Clarence Tedford, Jess Elliott, Ray Wilson. Two of the members were unable to attend.

Woman's Club "At Home"

The Woman's Club was entertained on Tuesday last by Mrs. W. C. Young of North Broadway in the annual "At Home" of the club. Maman Cochet roses were used in house decorations. Mesdames Henry Diers, Amy Dale, Jane Clarke assisted Mrs. Young in serving delicious refreshments of salad, home-made cakes and tea at the close of the informal and pleasant afternoon.

Of Miss Winifred Roberts

Of the dances of the flowers given after the crowning of the May Queen, at Cummoek School of Expression Los Angeles, yesterday during the May Day festival annually held by that splendid institution, the Los Angeles Tribune says this morning: "The dances of the flowers followed, and each group did splendid work, pacing through intricate measures without a flaw. One of the leading dances was given by Mrs. Glen Beatty and Miss Winifred Roberts, two of the prettiest among a maze of pretty girls, the Marguerite dance to the music of the "Faust Waltz." There were also the poppy, the pansy and the rose dances."

Miss Winifred Roberts is the daughter of Principal L. C. Roberts of Central school of this city, and is one of the best equipped students Cummoek has had under its tutelage. She is a capable exponent of the rounded training given by that school. Her readings, particularly, have given real pleasure in her home city. Miss Roberts having been generous with her services for Santa Ana affairs.

Tustin "V" Meeting

There will be a meeting of the Tustin "V" at the home of Mrs. W. L. Shatto tonight. As the last meeting was omitted, there will be two programs combined, and will be in charge of Elmer Deaver and Mrs. Julia Grisct. It is hoped that a number of the members will attend the Y. P. B. convention to be held at Temperance Temple at Los Angeles. Miss Inez Phinney is on the program.

For Bride-to-Be

Miss Mary Ann Inch of the Rankin dry goods establishment, who will leave on next Saturday for Yankton, South Dakota, where she will be married, was the central figure in a party given last evening by Miss C. G. Roberts.

THAT RAISIN DINNER ALSO MONEY RAISIN'

Raisin' money was the first object of the ladies of the First Christian church in giving a raisin dinner on Raisin Day, but in announcing the raisin dinner on Raisin Day they succeeded in raisin' the expectations of the public to such a high pitch that the raisin dinner proved more than a "raisinable success" (apologies to Pat), turning out to be a real cash raisin' affair.

Not only was it financially a success but the ladies found that their Raisin Day dinner of Wednesday evening was a social event as well. The elite of Santa Ana, as well as more humble folks, crowded the tables from 6 to 8 o'clock. Many of the smaller tables had been reserved beforehand for private parties, one of these being for a birthday party. All of these features combined to give a genuinely festive atmosphere to the raisin dinner.

The spacious basement dining room of the church was beautified with pink roses, a real wealth of these being used for the decorations both for the hall and for the tables. The pink color scheme was carried into the dessert course. Other courses included raisin bread, raisins in the compote, raisins in the salad, raisins in clusters, meat pie, mashed potatoes, jelly, pickles and coffee.

erts of 202 South Birch street in honor of Miss Inch. The bride-to-be was presented with a set of beautiful silver teaspoons from her associates in the store, and the evening passed merrily in games, gay songs and music. Many good wishes were made for Miss Inch both for her journey to Yankton and for the new life she will soon begin.

Refreshments were served at a large table decorated with Maman Cochet roses and pansies. The house decorations were of ferns and pansies.

The invited list included Miss Inch, Miss Theodora Beecher, Miss Graves, Miss Meacham, Miss Eastman, Miss Miller, Miss West, Miss Bidwell, Miss Lowen, Miss Lykke and Miss Covington; Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Holt, Mrs. Benedict.

At Mrs. O'Grady's

Mrs. J. J. O'Grady, 428 West Washington, entertained the ladies of the St. Joseph's Catholic Church yesterday afternoon, a goodly number of them being present. She was assisted by her guests, Mrs. Mottz and Miss Josephine Mottz. The house was bright with roses and their greenery, the lovely flowers being from Mrs. Grady's own yard.

Progressive games were played with Miss Katie Anselmino winning a prize, a fancy bag. Mrs. O. Anselmino of the ladies who did not play, drew successfully for the guest prize. Nice refreshments were served before the company departed. A good silver offering was realized.

A special feature of the afternoon was a visit from Father Eumelen and from Mrs. Joseph Yoch. The ladies were glad to welcome Mrs. Yoch, who has so long been ill. Mrs. Yoch invited the ladies to their next meeting in her beautiful rose arbor.

Mrs. W. J. Schonberg of Los Angeles came down to be present at yesterday's event.

A MAY DAY PARTY

Mrs. E. S. Gilbert Charmingly Celebrated Opening of May With Pretty Party

May Day was made delightful for a large number of society women of Santa Ana who were yesterday afternoon entertained by Mrs. E. S. Gilbert at her home on South Main street. A perfect wealth of Cecil Bruner roses mingled with maiden hair fern was used throughout the house, the May Day motif being observed by the clustering of the dainty flowers in brown baskets. No decoration could have been more effective, the beautiful home being made almost a floral bower by the skillful arrangement of the baskets with their exquisite contents.

Mrs. Gilbert was aided in receiving her guests by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Gilbert, of Los Angeles. Mrs. Whitte, Mrs. Anna Vandermast, Mrs. Earl S. Morrow and Mrs. Fred Parsons assisted Mrs. Gilbert in serving during the whist games and in serving.

In the progressive whist games in which were eleven tables of players, Mrs. Charles Kelley won high score. Her prize was a pretty damask lunch cloth. A pair of silk hose was awarded to Mrs. C. S. Kendall as second prize, Mrs. Kendall winning on a cut with Mrs. Philip Hatzfeld. Mrs. Verne Whitson captured an embroidered guest towel as the consolation prize. A novel rose drawing was presided over by Mrs. Roscoe Whitte, who passed a basket heaped up with Cecil Bruner roses, each guest making a selection. But one of all the rose stems bore more than a single rose, and that was drawn by Mrs. W. E. Winslow, her luck in drawing the cluster bringing her a pair of white kid gloves. Each of the ladies assisting Mrs. Gilbert was presented with a dainty handkerchief.

A novel centerpiece adorned each of the small tables whereon refreshments were served. A large pink tissue paper rose supported in an upright position by green stems in the center of each table, was filled with delectable candied strawberries hidden by pink candied rose and mint leaves. Delectable refreshments were served by Mrs. Gilbert.

The afternoon was unqualifiedly successful and the guests congratulated Mrs. Gilbert on her happy May Day party.

W. R. C. Meeting

(Mrs. H. Clay Kellogg.) It was gratifying to Corps President Mrs. Catherine Fisher and her splendid staff of officers to see so many members present when it came time to sound the gavel yesterday at the ninth regular meeting of the Relief Corps of the year.

A substantial little sum was forwarded to the flood sufferers—and a similar amount was sent to the Southern Memorial fund. That this sum should be well replenished by the G. A. R. and W. R. C. of Santa Ana brought a warm feeling to the hearts of all.

Mrs. W. V. Hoisington, a newcomer from Rapid City, South Dakota, took the obligation under the silken banner of Old Glory, thus becoming a member of Sedgwick W. R. C., No. 17. Mrs. Dora Spangler did likewise, after an absence of several years from the corps, being busy during that time raising her family and with work in other helpful orders. The ladies were glad to welcome her once more into their busy ranks, swelling the membership to 221 members.

Mrs. Andrew Getty, a former member, still has a warm place in her heart for the corps, as evinced by the fact that she had been piecing a quilt for her sisters, full of loving thoughts from one of Santa Ana's most philanthropic ladies. In the near future the corps will hold an all day quilting bee with a fine spread at noon, and when the quilt is finished it will be disposed of for the benefit of the relief fund.

On Wednesday, May 14, from 2:30 to 6 p.m. will occur another of those joint teas with the post. The Boys in Blue will furnish the program and the W. R. C. the refreshments. The proceeds to go to the W. R. C. relief fund. The public is cordially invited.

Mrs. Martha Ritchey was appointed and installed as third color bearer to take the place of a much loved member, Mrs. Rachel Hennacy, deceased.

Addressed City Schools

Mrs. A. C. Bainbridge, principal of the Chatsworth, Cal., school, today addressed the grammar schools of Santa Ana on the subject of scientific temperance in the schools. She was brought here by the local W. C. T. U. and made strong addresses, visiting each school in company with Prof. Cranston, Mrs. Norman, Mrs. Smart and Mrs. Warren. She is considered one of the leading authorities in the state on the subject on which she spoke.

This afternoon Mrs. Bainbridge spoke before the Orange city schools.

JAPANESE BUYS 2000 ACRES LAND NEW JERSEY STATE

NEW YORK, May 2.—Recent investigation of the records of the transfer of deeds to property about five miles north of Haskell, N. J., where the enormous plants of the Du Pont Powder Works are located, reveal that Heitaro Fujita, a Japanese, within the past two years and a half has bought nearly 2000 acres of land. The deeds are on file at Paterson, the county seat of Passaic county.

In all the cases the transfer was made to the Japanese by Lawrence H. Tasker and his wife, Hattie B. Tasker, of Yonkers. Fujita in each one of the nine transfers conceals his own whereabouts, but gives his address in seven of them as "Heitaro Fujita, care Yonezo Okamoto, 111 Broadway, New York City," and in the two last in care of the same Japanese at 149 Broadway.

In none of the transfers is the real consideration mentioned. One dollar is the amount given in each case.

AMUSEMENTS

Last night the Bell Theater was crowded to the walls, with a gathering of happy, laughing, old and young men, women and children. All were anxious, curious and wondering. They were there to see—to see not only the extra splendid entertainment of Lamont's thirty performing birds in their most wonderful act—to see Mutt and Jeff and the ever popular Pathe weekly—the great Cuban war drama, the funny Vie Foust in the Rube Mucian; the big Edison comedy picture, and last but not least, they all came to see the first motion picture taken in Santa Ana. These not only pictured various street scenes, but pictured in particular the various public schools, with teachers and pupils in drills, marches and exercises—and everyone was more than pleased. From start to finish of the school pictures could be heard, "There I am"—see Billy—"On, there is Mary," and like remarks. The pictures are a big success, and will be seen at the Bell tonight and at the Temple Saturday and Sunday nights.

LOS ANGELES SETS PACE FOR NATION

Mrs. McCann as Member of Civil Service Commission Reviews Police Officers' Drill

Mrs. David Chambers McCann of Los Angeles has the unique distinction of being the first woman in the nation's history to act as an official in the inspection of a police department. As a member of the Civil Service Commission Mrs. McCann yesterday accompanied Mayor Alexander, Chief Sebastian and other officials to Fiesta Park, Los Angeles, to review 300 officers of the Los Angeles police department in their drills.

As to woman's part in such occasions and in public utility work, Mrs. McCann said in an interview:

"I believe the presence of women always makes any gathering more dignified. It has been demonstrated that such is the case at the polls, and wherever women meet with men. Good women are needed to work in the civil service department with good men to make for greater efficiency. Women are needed everywhere in fighting civic battles. I was proud to be present yesterday to see the members of the department drill under their efficient captain, Charles G. Lehmann."

NOT GOING TO CROSS RIVER

County Highway Commission
Rejects Plans for North Side
Route in Canyon

The County Highway Commission has agreed that the route to be followed in laying out the road to be improved in the Santa Ana canyon shall be on the south side of the Santa Ana river all the way from the river to the river side of the canyon. In other words the road will be left about where it is now. There will be some grading and some cuts to be made, with slight changes here and there, but the plan to have the road lie on the north side of the river a portion of the way has been rejected by the commissioners.

It was proposed to the commission that it would be well to have the road on the south side of the river until a point near where the water companies' intake is located, there bridge to the north side and follow along the Santa Fe until a point near the Riverside county line is reached, where the river would be recrossed to the south side.

A few days ago the three commissioners, M. M. Crookshank, D. C. Pixley and Richard Egan, inspected the route thoroughly, and decided against going to the north side of the river.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

Butter receipts the last few days averaged considerably more than 50,000 pounds. This resulted in a decline yesterday of 1 1/2 cents. Larger receipts from Imperial Valley and the Tulare section are principally responsible for the increase. The market is still somewhat higher than for the past few years at this time, however, and although a further decline may occur if large receipts continue, it seems unlikely that it will be of much importance. The market exhibited steadiness at the close yesterday.
Eggs were weak, despite the light receipts of the last few days. It is possible that there may be a falling of 1/2 to 1 cent in the next day or so. This will not be of any significance as far as the market in general is concerned, however. Local cheese showed firmer tendencies, probably because of higher prices in the North.
Some varieties of onions were weak, owing to the steadily increasing supply. Silverskins were quoted as low as 75 cents a box. Yellow Bermudas were also easier. Asparagus moves rapidly at present low prices. Some dealers say the trade in this vegetable is larger than ever. New potatoes were quite plentiful.
A few cherries remained from the previous day's shipments. There should be a good supply of this fruit soon. Logans are much in evidence. Apples continue abundant and cheap.

"Always Air"

ALWAYS AIR is a fluid compound, a small quantity of which, when placed in the inner tube of a pneumatic tire will instantly, automatically and permanently stop all punctures from the smallest to the size of a 20-penny spike.

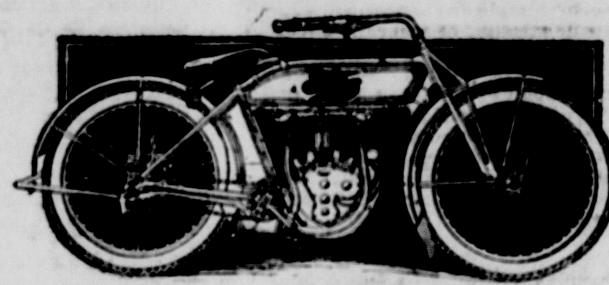

IT IS NOT A TIRE FILLER

It is not only inexpensive but adds 50 per cent. to the service of tires. It will not injure rubber. It is not affected in its operation by heat or cold. It will not harden, gum, dry up or deteriorate. It will not stick the inner tube to the casing. It cannot come into contact with the casing. It can be changed from one tube to another. It will last for years. It adds practically no weight to the tire (only about three pounds to the largest tire.) It fills only a small portion of the inner tube, and the pneumatic quality of the tire is retained.

After picking up a nail in the road, you will always run at least a block and generally a much longer distance on a flat tire. This shortens the life of the casing at least 50 per cent, sometimes ruins it immediately. After having tires treated with our fluid you may remove nails at once or never remove them, and in either case there is no leakage of air.

SERVES INDIAN IN SANTIAGO

Law and Rico in Auto Follow
Girl on Horseback—Rico's
Story Amusing

One of the witnesses in the white slavery investigation in Los Angeles is James Youngdeer, an Indian in charge of a crew of moving picture people now camped in the Santiago canyon. Youngdeer was served with a subpoena Thursday afternoon by Under Sheriff Law and Officer Rico, the latter of Los Angeles.

It is alleged that Youngdeer introduced Miss Quick, the star witness in the investigation, to two men now under arrest in Los Angeles.

Youngdeer's whereabouts were discovered by Sheriff Riddock and reported to the Los Angeles authorities by him. Rico was sent down with a subpoena, and Under Sheriff Law went with him to the Santiago canyon, where service was secured.

Returning to Los Angeles, Rico told a wild and woolly story in which his part was played up to the very highest degree, and no mention was made of the under-sheriff's part. If it had not been for the under-sheriff, Rico might have gone home without having served the papers.

On arriving at the wigwams at the S. & M. ranch, it was found that Youngdeer was gone. A young white woman began saddling a pony to leave the camp. Another member of the camp got the officers into conversation concerning a sick horse. Rico fell for the ruse, but Law did not. He suspected that the woman was going to warn Youngdeer, and left the sick horse to Rico and the man who was doing the talking. When the girl headed from camp, Law got Rico into the automobile and the two men followed. The girl turned up the canyon, and soon Youngdeer and others were met returning from the coal mine. The girl's husband was among them. Youngdeer was served with the subpoena, and the officers returned to Santa Ana, and Rico went on to Los Angeles. Then comes this story from Los Angeles:

"Los Angeles Detective Rico, a former cowboy, won a race with an Indian girl on a pony at James Youngdeer's moving picture camp near San Juan Capistrano when he followed the girl to the place where it was alleged Youngdeer had been in hiding to evade a subpoena to appear before the grand jury investigation of white slavery."

"In the serving of Youngdeer, who is regarded as an important witness, Detective Tom Rico disguised himself as a cowboy. He approached the ranch and learned that Youngdeer, with other members of his company, was appearing in a western drama. He rode to the scene and watched the taking of pictures. He was noticed by an Indian girl, who attempted to warn Youngdeer. The officer, however, followed her on horseback and succeeded in serving the moving picture producer just as the girl found Youngdeer in a clearing."

LONE BANDIT HELD UP ENTIRE TRAIN

Fatally Wounded Mining Man in Revolver Duel—He Then Escaped

KANSAS CITY, May 2.—A lone bandit lined up and robbed the passengers of the Kansas City Southern train of $1500 and escaped, after fatally wounding Jesse Short, a wealthy mine owner, in a revolver duel. The bandit was wounded in the exchange of shots.

The train had proceeded only three miles from Joplin. After robbing the passengers in the chair car, the bandit compelled the porter to lead him through the train. Coming to Short's berth, he compelled Short to surrender $1000 in coin, a watch and two diamonds. As the robber turned Short over a revolver and opened fire on him. The robber whirled and emptied his gun into Short's berth. Short was shot through the head, shoulder and knee. The robber jumped from the train, which was stopped, and it is believed escaped by a rowboat on the Blue river, a trail of blood leading to the river bank.
